CityLit Teens is a unique program for youth where teenagers explore creative writing, teamwork, and public reading skills while they write, title, and design a professionally printed book of their own. CityLit Teens allows youth to express themselves creatively while providing them with the sense of accomplishment that comes from being published. Information: 410-274-5691 info@citylitproject.org